Dear Student,

Thank you to each of you who have participated in the School of Music process by contributing feedback either within through discussion and/or the somconsult box. Your input into this process is encouraged.

Many of the questions being raised relate to the impact of the proposed change, of course we are unable to provide concrete or detailed information until the consultation process has finished and decisions are made. After the formal consultation closes the University will publish information about implementation activities and at this point on specific or individual advice will be available.

Getting feedback from you is always important; today I meet with a small group of students who provided some very constructive comments on their current experiences as students of the School. We can now use that information to improve transition processes.

If there is a desire for other small group student meetings to occur I’m more than happy to join in discussions, as is the Dean of Arts and Social Sciences, Professor Toni Makkai. Please contact the Project Officer, Kathrin Kulhanek via somconsult@anu.edu.au

A reminder that throughout the consultation period advisory sessions are available at the CASS Student Office from 10th to 25th May, 2012 Monday to Friday from 10am to noon. Bookings are suggested please contact the office directly via email or phone t: 6125 2898.

Professor Marnie Hughes-Warrington

Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic)
The Australian National University
Building 10, The Chancelry
Canberra ACT 0200
Australia

T +61 2 6125 8487
F +61 2 6125 5955
www.anu.edu.au

CRICOS Provider #00120C