

Australian
National University

Public Lecture Series:
3rd Roundtable Discussion

Middle East Update No.3: The Strait of Hormuz, Australian Energy Security & Supply Chain Resilience

With the Strait of Hormuz now a flashpoint in the US/Israel-Iran conflict, global energy markets face unprecedented disruption. What does this mean for Australia's energy security and the resilience of critical supply chains?

This panel brings together leading experts on Gulf energy, Indo-Pacific maritime security, Chinese energy markets, Australia's renewable energy transition, and agricultural and critical mineral supply chains to assess near- and medium-term risks. The panel will consider options available to both Australian policymakers and the public.

Thursday 7th May 5-6.30pm

In-person at China in the World Theatre
Online via Humanitix

<https://shorturl.at/VQz0c>

All welcome. Free registration. Join us for an insightful panel discussion from leading experts.

This event is co-hosted by ANU's Centre for Arab and Islamic Studies (CAIS), and the Institute for Climate, Energy and Disaster Solutions.

Moderator:

Dr Jessie Moritz (CAIS, ANU)

Panellists

Jennifer Parker Defence & Security Institute (UWA)

Katie Ricketts (CSIRO)

Prof. John Mavrogenes (Research School of Earth Sciences, ANU)

Dr Fiona Beck (School of Engineering, ANU)

Queries? jessie.moritz@anu.edu.au